

FOUNDATIONS IN GEORGIA.

Colonel Spear, of Griffin, wants Colonel Columbus Blandford placed in a blue dress case. This would be altogether too thin. The colonel would pay his way out in a very few minutes.

Few of the older and more substantial citizens of Savannah can withstand the temptations of beer at five cents a glass.

Georgia items may be scarce now, but after Tump Ponder, of Monroe county, will turn his roan mule out to graze. Whereupon the slaughter of the innocents will begin.

We can never get even with the Fort Valley Mirror. One day we give it credit for what it didn't say, and the next we attribute a great big chunk of its eloquence to some other paper. These matters will be straightened out some day.

The Dalton Citizen says that Ed. Purcell has been appointed United States marshal for Georgia with a salary of $2,000 a year. It is said he has been keeping this fact from his friends, he will find an accumulation of trouble on his return to Atlanta.

Judge James Hearn, of Mid and highly esteemed citizen of Meriwether county, is dead.

We shall never be tempted to believe it is spring until we hear that another early bird has hit upon the head of the editor of the Greenville Vindicator.

This is about the season of the year when Dr. Andrews, of the Washington Gazette, usually devotes himself to the cultivation of a double carbon cle.

Hansell, of the Thomsville Enterprise, uses blue glass to invade dodges out of their abiding places.

We have received a number of the Warrenton Colard Led, edited and published by Tommie S. Hubert. It is an exceedingly sprightly little publication.

The indications are that the Savannah News and the Augusta Chronicle will have a verbal tussle over Mr. Hill's position.

R. J. Gaines, the poet-laureate of Carroll, has condensed the agony which spring awakens in the bosom of all able-bodied men, into a poem of several consecutive stanzas. Between Conyers and Carrollton, spring doesn't have any repose at all.

Gantt, of the Oglethorpe Echo, drinks what is known in Waggoner's parlance as "spiked coffee." The fluid is exceedingly strong and healthy.

The Waynesboro Express says: "The ATLANTA CONSTITUTION is still it claims to be, newsy, spicy, reliable. Another valuable addition has been made to this already excellent journal, in the way of an Agricultural Department, which is edited by Mr. Malcolm Johnson, the secretary of the Georgia state agricultural society. We know Mr. J. personally, and congratulate the CONSTITUTION in being fortunate enough to secure his services. The Waynesboro Express is eminently suited for those who do not take a daily paper."

It is rumored that Abe Hewitt, late of the Tilden campaign club, will pass through Gainesville before many days on his way to Dahlgren, in company with other millionaires, to inspect the gold mines.

Dalton is to have a moon-light festival.

A Warren county man who has been struck by lightning twice and drowned once, has married and moved to Florida.

Albany News: The hail and heavy rain which fell last Sunday, a week ago, was followed on Thursday, Friday and Saturday by a northeaster and unusually cold weather for the season of the year. Much fear was entertained by our farming community of a general freeze up—a killing of corn, which promised so well, total destruction to fruit, and the generation of lice in the cotton which had reached the surface. All apprehensions were dissipated, however, for Saturday morning last when the sun shone out bright and beautiful. The acreage in corn this year may be put down as about equal to that of last year. Only about 25 per cent of this crop has been fertilized this year; and it now gives a most beautiful promise. On most plantations the first plowing has been done, and the work is well up with the season. The average condition of the oat crop is somewhat behind. The cold weather of last winter played havoc with the fall sowing, and there seems to have been no disposition to replant in the early spring. The preparation of soil for cotton planting has been thorough. Farmers are perhaps a little behind in "putting in" the amount of corn raised upon the staple is even less than that used last year. About one-fifth of the crop is now up, and the plant promises well. There is perhaps a larger area of cotton planted this year, but corn and other grain crops have not been overlooked, and there is quite a sufficiency of the latter for all practical purposes. Sugar cane looks well, though the quantity planted is not as great as it should be. Millet is receiving thorough tests, and plans are being attended to. Many planters are trying the chufas this season, and the groundpeas and fieldpeas crop will both be an average. Hog and cattle raising are receiving much more attention than at any time since the war, and many of our planters will this year produce meat sufficient for supplying their plantation hands and themselves. The colored laborers have commenced the year with earnest work, and all look forward to a bountiful harvest and good process next fall and winter.

Not a mother in the land but knows how much inequity it requires to dress children prettily and tastefully. "Andrews's Bazar" devotes a page especially to children's costumes, and always has something desirable in its carefully drawn designs. Send ten cents for a sample copy to W. R. Andrews, Cincinnati.
